 - "Authorized Course Dropping" are available until the first third of the semester has passed (please check the calendar for specific dates).

Important reminders for undergraduate students

- Course Selection & System Interface Guide

1. Please follow the timeline for course selection and refer to the Academic Affairs System for the results. Before the pre-selection period, add/drop course period, and authorized add/drop course period ends, please confirm the courses you have added and dropped online.
2. Please refer to "How to Update E-mail Addresses" to update the e-mail address registered to the Online Course Selection System to ensure you receive all important information or notifications.
3. Students that have been approved for credit transfers/ exemptions or students that have been automatically been added compulsory courses by the system should remove courses if there are any overlaps.
4. Please make sure that the courses you have registered for do not overlap in time.

Important reminders for undergraduate students

- Course Selection & System Interface Guide

5. The system will mark courses as "to be confirmed" (by the course lecturer/professor) given the following circumstances. Courses that are marked as "to be confirmed," are not considered registered courses yet. After the online add/drop course period is over, the Division of Curriculum will print a list of students that require confirmation from lecturers/professors for confirmation. Students can also confirm with their lecturers/professors during class.
 - ☆1 Courses that are compulsory courses for another department.
 - ☆2 Courses that are compulsory courses or electives for students of higher grade levels.
 - ☆3 Graduate students registering for an undergraduate course from another department.
 - ☆4 Courses where there is a prerequisite course that the student has yet completed.
 - ☆5 A second-semester course of a full-year courses that the student has not taken the first-semester course for.
6. Students are limited to 1 PE course per semester. Please refer to the PE Course Selection Guidelines.
7. Students should follow the guidance from academic units (departments, institutes, offices, and centers) when selecting courses and select courses designated for their grade levels (program) by your department. Please make sure to select all the necessary compulsory courses and required courses. If you have failed any courses in the previous academic year, please try to complete those courses before selecting other courses.

Important reminders for undergraduate students - Regulations and Others

1. According to NCHU's course selection guidelines, all credits required for undergraduate students (excl. students that have opted to defer graduation) are listed in the table to the right.
2. According to Article 14 of the NCHU's Regulations on Course Registration :

STUDENT	Minimum Required Credits
Undergraduate Grade 1 to 3	16 credits
Undergraduate Grade 4 and 5 (Not including students with extended graduation)	9 credits

Students are allowed to withdraw from courses before one-third of the term is completed if they fulfill the minimum credit requirements each semester. The credit fees, however, cannot be refunded.

✘ The credit fees are not refundable if the Add-or-Drop Selection incurred on (and after) March 13.

3. If students choose to take the same course twice, only one of the course's credits will be counted towards their credit requirement for graduation.
4. Student-athletes are required to enroll in Men's Varsity or Women's Varsity courses for 3 academic years (6 semesters) to graduate.

Important reminders for undergraduate students - Regulations and Others

5. NCHU students that wish to audit a course should communicate with course lecturers/professors before the start of the semester or during the first week of the semester to safeguard the professor's and student's interests.
6. To help students better transition into foreign language courses and maximize the benefits of second foreign language courses. Starting from the 2018 Academic Year, there will be a limit to the number of students from each grade level during the online pre-selection period .
7. Students that have deferred graduation and are taking 9 or fewer credits will only have to pay credit fees according to the extension education undergraduate program's credit fee standards. Students that have deferred graduation and are taking 10 or more credits (as of the Cashier Division's filing date) should pay all tuition and fees even if the student later withdraws from courses.
8. Please refer to the Office of Academic Affairs' web page for regulations related to payment: Payment Methods for NCHU Guidelines on the Payment of Miscellaneous Fees, Credit Fees and Other Fees and Tuition Standards

Q & A for G.E. Courses - General English

Q2 : How do I register for "English Communication and Expression" (First semester) and "Academic English: Listening and Reading" (Second semester)?

A2 : Students will be placed in English courses based on their English proficiency levels. As such, English Communication and Expression" and "Academic English: Listening and Reading " courses are not available for course addition online. Please refer to the following regulations (<https://nchu.cc/73sz9>) and select courses based on the following table.

Freshmen, transfer students, and returning students first enrolled in the 2019 Academic Year and beyond.	(1) Students will be sorted into different General English courses by the NCHU Language Center based on their GSAT English scores. The NCHU Language Center will automatically add Freshman English courses to your course selection list before the G.E. Course Selection–Phase 1. Please make sure to check your course selection list. (2) Students without a GSAT English score from any year will need to take an English placement test at the NCHU Language Center to select General English courses. Please register for the English placement test at the NCHU Language Center website between 2/9-2/20. (https://lc.nchu.edu.tw/campaign.php, test date is 2/24) (3) Students that have taken the English placement test should visit the NCHU Language Center during the authorized add/remove course period to register for General English courses based on their test results.
Undergraduate students first enrolled in the 2018 Academic Year and beyond that are retaking the class	Students are free to assess their own English proficiency levels and register for any General English courses during the authorized add/remove course period by visiting the NCHU Language Center.

Q & A for G.E. Courses - General English

Q3 : Will the NCHU Language Center automatically add " English Communication and Expression" (First semester) and "Academic English: Listening and Reading" (Second semester) to my course selection lists if I meet the requirements to either waiver for the English course?

A3 : Please visit the NCHU Language Center/ Announcements web page before 1/14 12:00 PM to fill out the course waiver form. The NCHU Language Center will not be adding any General English courses to your course selection list once you've completed the forms. Reminder! Filling out the forms does not mean you have completed the waiver process. Please complete the subsequent steps by visiting the NCHU Language Center within the designated time.

Q4 : After being approved for a waiver of "English Communication and Expression" (first semester) and "Academic English: Listening and Reading" (second semester), what courses can I take to make up the credits?

A4 : (1) English for Specific Academic Purposes (ESAP) courses offered by colleges or departments (degree programs).
(2) English-Medium Instruction (EMI) courses offered by colleges, departments (degree programs), or the General Education Center.
(3) Second foreign language courses offered by colleges, departments (degree programs), or the Language Center.

Q5 : I was supposed to complete 6 Freshman English credits during the 2020 Academic Year but failed one of the semesters, how do I apply to retake the course?

A5 : NCHU has changed Freshman English credit requirements in the 2021 Academic Year, reducing the 6-credit requirement to 4 credits. You can retake the General English course for one semester to earn 2 credits, but please make sure that you have fulfilled the General Education credit requirements for graduation.

Q & A for G.E. Courses - General English

Q6 : Can I remove " English Communication and Expression" (First semester) and "Academic English: Listening and Reading" (Second semester) that has been pre-selected for me and add classes during other times?

A6 : " English Communication and Expression" (First semester) and "Academic English: Listening and Reading" (Second semester) courses are not open for online course addition, and students are not allowed to take other classes even of the same English proficiency levels.

Q7 : Which category of General Education credits does "Academic English: Speaking and Writing" (Second-year English course) fall under?

A7 : For students admitted starting from the 2025 academic year (those subject to the 2025 graduation requirements), this is a required 2-credit course offered in a single semester under the "Foreign Languages" category. The specific course required varies by department. Please refer to your department's graduation requirement checklist for details.

Q8 : How do I register for "Academic English: Speaking and Writing" (Second-year English course)?

A8 : The Language Center will automatically assign the designated Second-year English course for each department. Students do not need to register for the course online. Please refer to the Language Center website for information regarding course schedules and the semester in which the course is offered by each department.

(Reminder! This course cannot be waived with an English proficiency test score and must be taken in full.)

Q & A for G.E. Courses - General English

Q9 : Can I remove "Academic English: Speaking and Writing" (Second-year English course) that has been pre-selected for me and add classes during other times?

A9 : (1) You may add or drop the course during Phase 2 of General Education course selection or during the online add/drop period (starting from the last day of the initial course selection phase). It is strongly recommended that you follow the time by the Language Center to avoid scheduling conflicts with required departmental courses or the risk of not securing a spot due to limited availability. (2) If you choose to drop the course on your own, please make sure to complete the required credits before graduation to avoid affecting your graduation eligibility.

Q10 : How do I register for " English Proficiency Improvement " ?

A10 : ★ Course Registration Criteria:

Only open to undergraduate students in their second year or above (excluding students from the Department of Foreign Languages and the International Bachelor's Program of Agribusiness) who have taken at least one English proficiency test, or the General English Proficiency Test administered by the university, and have not yet met the graduation requirement.

★ Course Registration Method:

Students must register for the course during the initial course selection period or the online add period.

The Language Center will review student eligibility. Those who do not meet the requirements must drop the course within the notified deadline.

For other frequently asked questions about registering for General English courses, please visit the NCHU's Language Center web page. (<https://lc.nchu.edu.tw/freshman.php>)

Q & A for G.E. Courses - Information Literacy

Night school students and foreign students can be exempted from taking the course - Information Literacy: Computer Programming and AI Applications.

Q1 : Information Literacy: Computer Programming and Its Applications is a compulsory course, will I still be required to add the course myself during the online add/remove course period?

A1 : No, General Education Center will automatically add the course for freshmen students. Other students that need to take the course (returning students or transfer students) but do not have a pre-selected “Information Literacy: Computer Programming and AI Applications” course, please add a course that you wish to enroll in during the G.E. Course Selection–Phase 2 or the online add/remove course period.

For more information, please visit Center for General Education website:

<https://www.oaa.nchu.edu.tw/en-us/unit-page-p.237/page-detail.2415>

Q & A for Mini General Education Courses

Q1 : For Mini General Education Courses, do I first fill out a list of courses that I wish to select and then participate in the lottery?

A1 : There is no lottery for Mini General Education Courses, which means the courses are available for selection until all slots are filled. Please select the courses you wish to register in during the course selection period (3/02-3/06) on the Academic Affairs System.

Q2 : I've already registered for 3 general education courses this semester, can I still select Mini General Education Courses?

A2 : Yes, students can take up to 3 Mini General Education Courses per semester. Regular general education courses, "Narrative Expression: Language Literacy", "Narrative Expression: Language Application", "English Communication and Expression", "Academic English: Listening and Reading", "Academic English: Speaking and Writing", "Information Literacy: Programming and AI Applications" are not counted toward this restriction.

Q3 : How do I remove from Mini General Education Courses?

A3 :

(1) Before class starts: If you wish to remove the course during the Mini General Education Course selection period, simply remove the course from your course selection list online.

If you wish to remove the course after the Mini General Education Course selection period, please file an Google online form <https://forms.gle/RAeFTtSZG2mCHKGc7> at least 3 working days before the class starts to remove the course. Late applications to remove the course will not be accepted.

(2) After class starts: You will no longer be able to remove the course. Any absences will affect your attendance records and ability to enroll in Mini General Education Courses in the future.

Q4 : How are Mini General Education Courses counted toward general education credits?

A4 : Students will be granted 6 learning hours for each completed Mini General Education Course. Once you've earned 18 learning courses, you will receive 1 credit toward the Learning Puzzle of General Education. Students can earn up to 3 Learning Puzzle of General Education credits.

Q5 : Do credits from Learning Puzzle of General Education count towards our general education credit requirements for graduation? What domain does it belong to? What discipline does it belong to?

A5 : Yes, Learning Puzzle of General Education credits do count towards your general education credit requirements for graduation. Students that first enrolled at NCHU in the 2020 Academic Year or earlier can receive 1 credit each for Learning Puzzle of General Education (I), Learning Puzzle of General Education (II), and Learning Puzzle of General Education (III). These credits will be counted as free general education electives. (will not be counted toward any disciplines in the Humanistic, Social Science, or Natural Science domains). Students that first enrolled at NCHU in the 2021 Academic Year or later can receive 1 credit each for Learning Puzzle of General Education (I), Learning Puzzle of General Education (II), and Learning Puzzle of General Education (III). These credits will be counted toward Integrated Domains.

Q6 : What happens if I miss classes for Mini General Education Courses?

A6 : Students are allowed to miss classes for Mini General Education Courses (this is not the equivalent of removing the course). If the Mini General Education Course spans a few weeks, you can continue to take classes in the following week. Unfortunately, Mini General Education Courses have fewer classes and so students will only receive learning hours for full attendance.

Q & A for G.E. Courses - National Defense Education

Q1 : Do I have to take National Defense Education (Military Training)?

A1 : No, National Defense Education courses are not compulsory courses. Starting from the first semester of the 2018 Academic Year, National Defense Education has been changed to a general education course with credits counted toward the Social Science Domain's Law and Politics Discipline. National Defense Education courses can be selected like regular general education courses and are available to both male and female students.

Q2 : There are a total of 5 National Defense Education (Military Training) courses, can I take all of them?

A2 : Yes, but only 1 of the courses will be counted to your credit requirement for graduation.

Q3 : How do I use National Defense Education (Military Training) courses to reduce the term of my compulsory military service?

A3 : 1 National Defense Education course reduces your military service term by 2 days, which means 5 National Defense Education courses can reduce your military service term by 10 days. Please contact the Office of Student Safety under the Office of Student Affairs for more information.

Q4 : Can graduate students also take National Defense Education (Military Training) courses?

A4 : Yes, please add the course you wish to enroll in during the online add/remove course period, but NCHU will charge an additional credit fee for the course.

The slide features a light beige background. A large, white, rounded rectangular banner is centered, framed by a thick yellow border. On the top left of the banner, a cartoon bee with a yellow and black striped body and white wings is flying. On the top right, a pink flower with a yellow center and a small bee on it is positioned. The bottom of the slide is decorated with a field of white daisies with yellow centers and green stems. Two yellow circles of different sizes are scattered in the lower middle area.
